Fulbright Scholar Program

The Fulbright Scholar Program brings professors from around the world to the U.S. to lecture and/or research on American university campuses for a period of three to twelve months. The program offers participants the opportunity to expand their professional experience, learn more about the U.S., and teach American students and colleagues about their countries. International and domestic airfare, a monthly stipend, and accident and sickness insurance are provided. Immediate family members may accompany grant recipients.

Who Can Apply?

Fulbright Scholar grants are available on a competitive basis to Saudi citizens (excluding dual U.S. nationals) living in Saudi Arabia who:

- Have a doctoral degree and wish to research or lecture on an American university campus during the 2009-2010 academic year
- Are fluent in English
- Are interested in promoting greater understanding between Saudis and Americans
